

LAWWITHOUTWALLS®

THE FUTURE OF LAW, TODAY

Greetings from the LWOW Team!

We appreciate your support for LawWithoutWalls (“LWOW”) and write to seek volunteers for our new LWOW Xed all virtual program in which student teams hack on a social justice problem from 22 January to 8 April.

In years past, we assigned mentors and team leaders to each of the virtual student teams. This year, we are introducing new roles and a new process intended to better mirror real life and to provide an opportunity for LWOW volunteers to try their hand in leading and managing the innovation process for a cross-cultural, intergenerational team. As such, for LWOW Xed, we are seeking two types of volunteers (click here for more detail):

1) LWOW Xed Project Managers:

- Who: Former LWOW team leaders, mentors, topic experts or students who have at least 3 years of experience with LWOW
- What: Lead and manage one team of students as they move through the 5 Steps to a Project of Worth; assist in brainstorming, planning, and the assignment of tasks
- When: Meet with assigned team of students at least once a week immediately after each LWOW Live Webinar (every Wednesday from 22 January - 8 April) @ 23:30 - 24:30 UTC (LWOW Live Webinar take place @ 22:00 - 23:30 UTC)

2) LWOW Xed Volunteer Mentors:

- Who: Former LWOW team leaders, mentors, topic experts or students
- What: Volunteer to be listed as a mentor on our website and contacted by a team to provide guidance based on your area of expertise; leverage your experience and connections to support the team of students on their innovation journey
- When: Mentors give their time on an as-needed-as-can basis

We hope you will volunteer and give the gift of your time to our student teams. As an added incentive, Xed Project Manager and Mentor volunteers will receive preferential to participate in LWOW Sprint (17 - 18 April @ University of Miami). To volunteer click here.

We will be back in touch about opportunities to participate in LWOW Sprint 2020! In the meantime, to help gauge our numbers, click here to let us know if you hope to attend LWOW Sprint.

Thank you for all that you have done and continue to do to support LWOW. Looking forward to seeing you—in person or virtually—soon!

Kind regards,

Lulia & Amir
